CANBIOCIN RECEIVES PATENT FOR ITS INNOVATIVE WOLF-DERIVED PROBIOTIC FOR DOGS

Isolated from wolves in a pristine Canadian wilderness environment, a unique new product to support gastrointestinal health in dogs

EDMONTON, Alberta; July 20, 2023 – CanBiocin, creators of species-specific probiotics to support companion animal wellness, vitality and longevity, has received a North American patent for their unique wolf-based probiotic for dogs. CanBiocin's Probiotic Bacteria Isolated from Wolves and Related Compositions and Methods is a pioneering product that aims to enhance the overall health and well-being of canine companions by promoting a balanced and robust gut microbiome.

"Species-specific probiotics are key functional ingredients which enhance animal wellness, vitality and longevity," says CEO, Dr. J.F. (Jake) Burlet. "Probiotics are beneficial bacteria which can improve digestion, reduce the number of harmful bacteria in the intestinal tract, stimulate the immune system and strengthen the intestinal barrier."

"Our newest patent is a result of years of dedicated research and development by our team of experienced scientists," states Dr. Burlet. "As a trusted B2B supplier to leading animal wellness brands, we are committed to advancing pet health with science-based solutions."

CanBiocin is also extending the functionality of its wolf and other commercially available strains through a patented microencapsulation technology which improves survivability during heat intensive manufacturing processes and allows such unique bioactives to be used in a broader range of formulations.

Pet food and treat manufacturers seeking innovative, science-based pre-, post- and probiotics can visit www.canbiocin.ca for more information and to contact a CanBiocin representative.
